

ParkSEIS — Installation Options for Purchase

Two installation options available for the versions 1.01 and higher;

- 1) receive a USB dongle (photo below) that provides the highest security and mobility, or
- 2) convert current trial (or lease) version to a regular version of single installation by receiving an unlock code via email.

The single installation option is available at a reduced price. The pros and cons for these two options are explained in the following table.

	1) USB Dongle	2) Single Installation
Pros	You will have the convenience of installing the software on multiple computers and running the software on a specific computer simply by connecting the USB stick. The software will not be adversely influenced by the condition of the installed computer. Online update and upgrade will also be available.	You will have the convenience of downloading updated and upgraded versions online promptly whenever they become available.
Cons	Any damaged or lost USB devices will need to be replaced at your own expense.	Once the software is converted into a regular version through the unlock code, it cannot be converted into a USB dongle version afterward. The software will be subject to any risks that the installed computer may face in the future.
